

Global Invest Her

Bio: Anne Ravanona, CEO

Anne Ravanona Founder & CEO of Global Invest Her, focused on increasing gender diversity at work and getting more women entrepreneurs funded faster.

She is a dynamic, visionary, global businesswoman with over 20 years experience in Management Consulting, Leadership Development & Global Business Development consulting to Fortune 500 blue chip multinationals across many different industries in complex global environments.

Areas of Speciality:

- Gender Diversity Consulting (from strategy to implementation)
- Leadership & Management Development – design and delivery of global training programmes
- Change Management and organizational culture change
- Top Team facilitation
- Startups, female founders
- Funding for Women Entrepreneurs

Past clients include: Technip, Pullman, Kurt Salmon, ESA (European Space Agency), Novartis, OECD, EDF, Areva, BNP Paribas, Sanofi, Council of Europe.

Focus on Women Leaders & Entrepreneurs:

Anne is a passionate advocate for women leaders and entrepreneurs and truly believes in their potential to re-ignite the global economy. She is a regular contributor to the Huffington Post, with her Trailblazing Women Series of interviews with global women leaders and entrepreneurs.

Anne recently did a TEDx talk called 'Spread Your Talent to the World' about investing in women entrepreneurs. She regularly carries out public speaking engagements on the topics of women's entrepreneurship, funding for women entrepreneurs, and leadership. Recent assignments include a TEDx talk, being a keynote speaker at the Female Founders Forum, and speaker at the EU Parliament, BIAC OECD, Pioneers festival, WeXchange Miami and Angel Summit Europe.

Credentials:

Anne has a diploma in Global Strategic Management from Harvard Business School and an honours BA in International Marketing & Languages from Dublin City University. She was recently named one of the Top 100 Women in Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths in Ireland by Silicon Republic and one of 42 Awesome Tech Women Making a Difference by Irish Tech News.

Anne is a truly global businesswoman, of double nationality (Irish/Spanish), she speaks 5 languages: English, French, Spanish, Italian & German.

